THE OVERWORKED MAN OF BUSINESS.

The London Sanitary Record, in an interesting article on "Overwork," gives the following graphic picture of the business man who is overtasking his powers, and if any reader of the Journal recognizes the symptoms as his own, let him be wise in time and remit the strain on his nervous system before he breaks down under it: "Sooner or later he finds that his day's work has become an effort, a toil rather than a delight; the last hour has become a strain only maintained by determination; a sense of exhaustion and fatigue envelopes his closure of the day's work, and the last columns of figures have presented difficulties hitherto unknown, and the last pile of letters has seemed more trying than of yore. Anything new of an unwonted character, making special demands upon the higher faculties, becomes arduous and distasteful, revealing the fact that the higher powers are first commencing to give way, to announce their inability, while the more routine matters, which have almost become automatic, or even habitual, can still be effectively discharged. But in time even these lower processes are affected, and the last half-hour at the office is a distinct trial, and is followed by a sense of exhaustion.—There is a certain amount of irritability combined with the sense of exhaustion, that irritability which is ever found along with the exhaustion of nerve matter; this irritation sometimes almost amounting to exaltation, marks the commencement of nervous exhaustion and failure. While work seems to become more irksome, the usual sources of pleasure no longer afford their wonted solace and satisfaction. There is a heightened susceptibility to any little trivial annoyance, domestic matters are felt more keenly, the dinner is not so stisfaactory, the children are noisy; the more necessity for rest, and the more distinct the craving for comfort and quiet, the less seems forthcoming. There is an emotional exaltation which reveals the irritability of the exhausted nerve centres; the newspaper is stupid and uninteresting, the piano wants tuning, servants are deteriorating, children are less obedient, and wives less sympathizing than of yore. The mind is as sensitive as is the skin after a blister; the slightest touch produces pain."

VANDERWERKER was a philanthropist, but he was apt to be impracticable. He heard the other day that a poor widow woman was starving to death in Mulberry street, and in his eagerness to do something for her he went out and bought her a second-hand piano and eight dozen clothes-pins, and sent them around on a dray. Then he went home and cried to think how he had made that desolate old person comfortable and happy. It was Vanderwerker who, when he learn- that a female seminary in Ohio had been burned in the night, the two hundred pupils escaping with but a single garment apiece, forwarded three gross of elastic suspenders and some silver plated ear-rings to make the party comfortable until they could hear from home. Vanderwerker inherited this tendency from his mother. It is said that excellent woman was awakened one night by a frightful earthquake. Dashing out of bed, she opened the closet, seized her gum shoes, grabbed her umbrella, and sat down in a shiver waiting for the destruction of the universe, which she certainly expected. She thinks to this day that if the end had come those gum shoes would have been a great comfort to her.

AN erring husband, who had exhausted all explanations for late hours, and no apology ready, recently slipped into the house about one o'clock very softly, denuded himself gently, and began rocking the cradle by the bedside, as if he had been awakened out of a sound sleep by infantile cries. He had rocked away for five minutes, when Mary Jane, who had silently observed the maneuvre, said. "Come to bed, you fool, you! the baby ain't there."

DECATUR, ILLINOIS:
Tuesday Evening, Dec. 22.

TIMES are not what they used to be—nor the school-masters either. Now-a-days a poor wight of a school-master is often brought to a sorry account if he ever inflict corporal punishment of ever so mild a type upon the juvenile incorrigibles under his tuition. Old Thomas Faognal Dibdin, who wrote that delightful book, yclped "Bibliomania," quotes the following statistics, as he says, from a "German magazine." This was a long time ago, near the beginning of the present nineteenth century, please bear in mind. A schoolmaster in the land of Swabia had wielded the rod and ferrule for fifty-one years in an institution of old-fashioned severity. One of his ushers entered into a calculation—on the rule of averages—whence he demonstrated that in his time the old schoolmaster had given "911,500 canings, 121,000 floggings, 209,000 castodes, 136,000 tips with ruler, 12,100 boxes on the ear, 22,700 tasks by heart" It was further calculated that he had made 7,000 stand on peas, 6,000 kneel on a sharp edge of wood, 5,000 wear the fool's cap, and 1,700 hold the rod It was well for that perverse old educator that he lived in different times and a different country from ours—for pupils and parents, as well as philanthropists of every species, would have risen up and driven him from the land. Think of dealing in that way with America.

IRWIN, the "nervously prostrated" Pacific Mail witness, has already said enough to make it very apparent that some tall timber will fall before the investigation closes. In his examination he used this language: "To meet squarely the general insinuation which underlies all these details, I say that everything I have which in any way represents money that ever belonged to the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, I own by virtue of written contracts, of which the company has, or ought to have, copies for services rendered. All the money paid me by the Pacific Mail Steamship Company in connection with the subsidy was applied by me precisely in the manner and for the purposes intended by the company—namely, in compensation for services which resulted in the donation to that company of $5,000,000, and which were rendered by many persons, including a number of gentlemen of talent and experience, who were necessarily engaged during three or four years."

It was developed during the examination that there was also an opposition lobby in which at least one Senator was pecuniarily interested in opposing the passage of the bill granting the subsidy.

If the committee gets to the bottom of this matter, some people will get crippled, but the country will be all the better for it.

RECENT letters from Utah ought to assure the doubtful that Gentile influence and power will ultimately have the upper hand in that Territory. The increase in non-Mormon population in Salt Lake City, Ogden, Corinne, and other towns, is surprising and the growth of anti-polygamous sects, with churches and schools of their own, is not less remarkable. The fact is, that the opening of the Pacific Railroad, coupled with the mineral discoveries in Utah, marked the beginning of the decline of a social system that is an anachronism, and cannot withstand the opposing influences to which it is subjected in a civilized country. Polygamy will perish, and speedily, if left alone to the operation of the natural forces that beleaguer it on all sides in Utah, and it is the part of wise statesmanship not to interfere and bring on evil disorders merely to hasten the downfall of a system that is visibly declining. The most potent agency in keeping it alive has been Brigham Young himself, who is now advanced in years, and in the natural order of things must soon pass from earthly activities. When he shall have ceased to be potential among the Mormons, it will require very little pressure to induce them to abandon a practice not sanctioned by their own church in its early days, and upon which the seal of condemnation is placed by the civilized world.

THE resolution in the House, calling for a committee to take official notice of Kalakaua's presence at the capital, furnished laughter. One of the clerks called the illustrious darkey "King Calico of the Highwines;" and another denominated him "King Kill a Cow of the Hay-Weighs."

BLOOMINGTON, NEB., Dec. 18.

EDITORS REPUBLICAN:—I will write you a few lines for the benefit of the public.

Grasshopper sufferers are plenty, here. If it were not for the Omaha aid society, people would suffer to a great extent. As it is, the people are furnished with flour, meal, clothes, &c.

Prices of corn, wheat, &c., are—Corn, $1.25; wheat, $1.00; potatoes, $1.25; flour, $2.90; hogs, 7c net, per lb., and 5c gross.

The question with the people now is, What will we do for seed? there being no money in the country and nothing raised. Our only chance is to rely on the liberality of our friends in the east. We have a large area of land under cultivation, a great deal of which will grow up with weeds unless seed is donated from the east.

People are in good spirits, considering all things. Weather is very fine. Stock is doing well on out-range and hay. Will try to write more, at another time. W. M. DAVIS.

CHRISTINE NILSSON'S HAPPY MARRIAGE AND PARISIAN PROSPECTS.

Paris Correspondence, Philadelphia Press.

The music loving and excitement loving people of Paris are anxiously awaiting the opening of the new opera house and the return of Christine Nilsson, who has made herself very popular with the Parisians with her willingness to sacrifice gold for glory in quitting her Russian engagement to come hither to inaugurate the opera house at such sadly reduced rates of salary, I am told that Mme. Nilsson's marriage was wholly and solely a love match, on the part of her husband as well as on her own; that he fell in love with her while she was studying for the stage, and was very anxious then to marry her and free her from all necessity of ever appearing in public, he at that time being quite wealthy. But the fair Christine, with full and well-founded confidence in own powers, declined to relinquish her hopes of fame and fortune, but promised she would marry him and quit the stage as soon as she had amassed a fortune equal to his own, which amounted to 1,000,000 francs ($200,000). Time passed on—the Swedish peasant girl became one of the world's recognized queens of song, and the whirligig of time in its changes swept away the fortune of Mr. Rouzeaud. I have been told that his depression and distress of mind were intense. "The woman that I love has soared far above me," he remarked to an acquaintance of mine. "She is so far above me, that I can never hope to call her my own." But there was an honest, steadfast heart throbbing beneath the diamonds, and laces of that snow-queen's corsage. In her glorious prosperity she did not forget the love that had sought her out in her days of obscurity and poverty. We all know the end of the romance—the wedding in Westminster Abbey, the train of bridesmaids, the loveliest bride and most envied bridegroom of the country. Madame Nilsson has taken a superb suite of apartments on the Rue Auber, not half a dozen blocks from the home of her dark-eyed rival, the Marquise de Caux. She is to reside there during her approaching visit to Paris.

GOVERNOR AMES, in his message to the Mississippi legislature which met on the 17th, says: "The insurgents have deliberately and knowingly entered into the work of revolution, and we must face the facts as they exist. If the insurrection is successful it must reduce the majority to the will of the minority, and that minority, which means to gain power by force, must retain it by legislation as harsh and cruel as its first acts of violence. In such a case one race will be deprived of their rights, and remanded back to as unfortunate a condition as they have ever known, or else be compelled to wander, seeking freedom and homes, with many of their race, in other States."

AN unpleasant report is in general circulation that Mr. Etter, the in-coming Superintendent of Public Instruction in this State, is in favor of restricting instruction in our public schools to the merely rudimental studies. The school law will control him, and he will find difficulties in carrying his individual notions into the administration of the school department, but if he is correctly reported, and the report seems to be well authenticated, it is unfortunate that a man of his narrow views has been placed at the head of the educational interests of the State. It will be charitable to await a judgment until he shall himself furnish the grounds for one; but a man who resorted to the means he did to obtain an election, gives occasion for distrust and the formation of an opinion unfavorable to him.

Hon. Bayless W. Hanna, "the Nawadaha" of the Indiana bar, recently the Voorhees Plenipotentiary to the Cincinnati Enquirer, having arranged things satisfactorily with the boys, is again standing among the sycamores that fringe the borders of the noble Wabash.—Cincinnati Commercial.

DISCUSSION IN THE HOUSE ON QUESTION,

OTHER CONGRESSIONAL DOINGS.

Caucus of Republicans.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.

SENATE.

Numerous petitions were presented from temperance organizations, and others, in various States, asking Congress to prohibit the manufacture and sale of alcoholic liquors in the District of Columbia.

Mr. Sherman, from the Committee on Finance, reported a bill to provide for the resumption of specie payment. Read twice and placed on the calendar.

He gave notice that he would call it up to-morrow at the expiration of the morning hour, if possible.

On motion of Mr. Boreman, the vote by which the Senate, in May last, rejected the bill to establish the territory of Pembina and provide temporary government therefor, was reconsidered and the bill recommitted to the Committee on Territories. Agreed to.

The House legislative judicial and executive appropriation bill was read by title and referred to the committee on appropriations.

House bill for further security of navigation on the Mississippi river was reported, with amendments, and placed on calendar.

At the expiration of the morning hour, the Senate resumed consideration of the bill to provide a better Government for the District of Columbia, the pending amendment being a motion to provide for the election instead of appointment of Commissioners.

Mr. Sargent opposed the bill as too much burdened with details and favored Mr. Morton's amendment, believing it wrong that the Republican party should deny the right of suffrage to the negro in this District; he believed the ballot necessary for the protection of the negro, and he could not lead the struggling people of Arkansas, Louisiana and Mississippi, to believe they were deserted by voting to deprive the negro in this District of the right of suffrage.

Mr. Saulsbury opposed the amendment and the deprecated attempt to make the bill a party measure.

Mr. Logan favored the amendment, and agreed with Mr. Sargent, and in reply to a remark of Mr. Saulsbury, that under the election the government of the District had been burdened with debt, declared that the men who had involved the district in debt, were appointed by the President, not elected.

Mr. Flannigan favored the amendment, and regretted that it did not include woman suffrage.

Mr. Merriman obtained the floor to address the Senate on the District bill, but yielded for the executive session, after which adjourned.

HOUSE.

Under a call of the States a large number of new bills were introduced and referred.

Mr. Bromberg offered a resolution for the appointment of a select committee to inquire whether any officer of the government has used any means to obstruct the administration of justice in the District of Columbia, particularly relative to the so-called safe-burglary conspiracy. The House refused to second the previous question by a vote of 74 to 81, and the resolution went over.

Mr. Hays offered a resolution for a select committee to inquire into the affairs of Alabama, and in regard to the use of Federal soldiers there, and the intimidation of soldiers.

Mr. Randall suggested that the committee also inquire in regard to the distribution of rations voted by Congress to the flood sufferers.

Mr. Hays stated that this was provided for in previous resolution. Hays' resolution was then adopted.

Mr. Sless, at the request of Mr. Young, offered a resolution calling upon the Secretary of War for information whether any army officer stationed in the South has been paid by or had sought pay from the Legislature of any State for his services, or had practiced law while on duty as such officer.

Mr. Young, in reply to a question, said the resolution referred to Major Merrill, stationed in South Carolina.

The House refused second to previous question by 60 to 105, and the resolution went over.

Mr. Holman's resolution, offered last Monday, declaring against the policy of granting any more subsidies in money, lands or by pledges of the public credit to any incorporation, came up. The House refused to suspend the rules and adopt the resolution—yeas, 149, nays, 75, not a two-thirds affirmative.

Mr. Dawes, chairman of ways and means committee, reported the refusal of R. B. Irwin to answer certain questions asked him by the committee respecting the distribution of $750,000, received from the Pacific Mail Company to aid in procuring an additional subsidy for the China mail service. The report of Irwin's examination was then read, and Mr. Dawes moved an order that the Speaker issue his warrant for contempt, and supported the motion in his speech, asserting that the testimony of Irwin that he brought this money to the very doors of congress; and though he declared he did not pay any of it to any Congressman, left plain the inference that the subsidy was procured by the expenditure of this sum of money, and the charge laid at the door of every member who voted for or omitted to vote against the bill, and it was the duty of the House to refer this reference. It could not escape from this duty.

A long discussion ensued as to the power of the House to punish for contempt.

Mr. Stephens and Gen. Butler argued that as the law provides for the punishment of a recusant witness by sending him for trial before a court and jury of the District of Columbia, the House has no other power in the matter. They denied there was, in this country, any such thing as parliamentary common law, and claimed the constitutional right of a citizen to be tried by court and jury.

Messrs. Dawes, Kasson, Beck and Lawrence argued the right and power of Congress to punish a recusant witness by fine or imprisonment, and while Lawrence was speaking, Mr. Beck announced that he had just informed Irwin that he was no longer in the custody of the Sergeant-at-Arms, and was preparing to leave Washington. The announcement created some excitement, but the discussion continued, and at the close Mr. Dawes motion was agreed to without a division.

Mr. Dawes then called up the resolution for holiday adjournment from Wednesday, 23, to Tuesday, January 5th, which, after an unsuccessful attempt to table and modify by making the adjournment to Tuesday next, was adopted—121 to 93.

Adjourned.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—In the Republican Senators caucus to-day, the southern Senators advocated sending troops to several of the Southern States. They feared the Republican party there was hopelessly dead unless decisive action was taken in this session to subdue the turbulent whites. The could not poll white votes if the northern Senators did not endorse the proposition. Some openly declaring they lost many votes by interference in southern affairs.

Senator Lewis declared the Republican party had lost power in the south Because of the bad character of many of its leaders and the advocacy of the iniquitous civil rights bill. The south could now only be carried by sending soldiers to prevent citizens voting.

A majority was evidently agreed, as many left the room before voting; and Senator Morton, who was relied on, remained silent.

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—A Philadelphia dispatch says the Ledger to-morrow contains the statement that inquiries made subsequent to the killing of the burglars, Mosher and Douglass, at Bay Ridge, resulted in the detectives obtaining circumstantial information confirming Douglass' dying statement, that Charlie Ross was still alive and the abductors demand $90,000 before returning the child to his parents.

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—It is reputed that Mrs. Mosher, wife of the dead burglar will be employed as a detective to hunt up Charlie Ross.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—The President has issued a proclamation commanding disorderly, turbulent persons in Warren county, Miss., to disperse and retire peaceably to their abodes and within five days from date and refrain from forcible resistance to the laws and submit themselves to the lawful authority of said county and state.

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—Telegraphic communication is almost entirely interrupted by the snow storm. Many telegraph poles are prostrated throughout the city and wires are broken. The fire and police telegraph is useless and the department experienced considerable trouble in consequence and had to take other precautions against fires. Travel this a. m. is not impeded although the snow is several inches deep.

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—A Berlin special says the Judge in passing sentence on Arnim said: "In the Emperor's name we declare the accused neither guilty of embezzlement or misdemeanor, but guilty of an offense against public order, and condemn him to pay the costs of the suit and suffer imprisonment for three months less the term of confinement already undergone." Six weeks grace has been allowed the Count before he goes to prison. Meanwhile police restrictions are removed. Another Berlin special gives an interview with Arnim, who says the charge of intriguing against the prime chancellor is one of the most infamous legends ever circulated and wholly false. Arnim scorns the idea of intrigue and wonders at the credulity of the entire German press.

BERLIN, Dec. 21.—The conviction and sentence of Arnim has created great sympathy for him. Earnest efforts are being made to secure his pardon. Arnim made an appeal to the Emperor against the sentence. The public prosecutor made a similar appeal. It is believed the Emperor will grant a pardon.

They keep the largest stock of dry goods in Decatur—they retail more goods than any other Dry Goods House in the United States according to population, and their expenses are less in proportion to sales. Besides they are thus enabled to buy most of their goods of first hand and by the case and package, which gives them great advantage over small dealers.

BISHOP BOWMAN AND DR. IVES AT STAPP'S CHAPEL.

Notwithstanding the brisk snow-storm which prevailed last evening a very large congregation assembled at Stapp's Chapel, as they supposed, to listen to a sermon from Bishop Bowman, and some were disappointed that the services took a different turn, and that the occasion was improved by making speeches in the interest of the missionary cause.

The services were conducted by Elder H. Buck, who introduced the services by reading an appropriate hymn, after the singing of which Rev. Dr. Ives, of Albany, N. Y., offered prayer. Following the prayer was another hymn. Elder Buck then introduced Bishop Bowman, who proceeded to address the audience in the interest of missions. The speaker took a brief survey of the mission field, and answered some objections urged against missionary operations. Among other objections noticed was that so often heard that nine dollars are expended out in getting the tenth to the place where it is used. This the speaker answered by saying that only five per cent. of the money collected for missions is expended in collecting and appropriating. Much valuable information was also given as to the mode of operation pursued by the missionary committee in carrying on its work. The Bishop's address, which consumed about three-quarters of an hour in its delivery, was a succinct and eloquent presentation of the subject in hand, and held the closest attention of his audience to the close.

Rev. Dr. Ives was then introduced, and spoke for an hour or more in a very earnest manner, urging the claims of the missionary cause, and speaking particularly of the Methodist church as being a missionary church The Dr's. style of address is in striking contrast with that of the Bishop. He is evidently a man of stir and go-ahead, and is bound to make a noise in the world.

His remarks were well received, and would have left a still better impression had they been brought within the limits of forty-five minutes. At the conclusion of Dr. Ive's address another hymn was sung, and the congregation was dismissed by Bishop Dickson of the U. B. church.

Just Received, and manufacturing daily, the largest and most complete stock of all kinds of choice candies, and a splendid lot of new candy toys from New York City, which will be sold during these "hard times" cheaper than ever before. Christmas Groceries at IMBODEN'S.

From California.—A letter received from W. F. Edmundson by his mother, Mrs. W. H. Mitchell, dated at San Jose, Dec. 13, states that he and his family arrived out in good health, but that T. O. Smith has been very ill,—so bad, indeed, that his death was looked for by his friends during several days. At the time the letter was written, however, he was thought to be out of danger, Mr. Edmundson speaks in most enthusiastic terms of the beauty of the country—says the grass is six inches high, the flowers in full bloom, and fruit very abundant. He says Mrs. A. A. Powers is there, and seems to be the happiest woman in the world. She wants all her children to come to California to live.

Acquitted.—Albert McGoodman, (colored), who was tried yesterday, on charge of stealing a quantity of wine and $12 in money, from John Eckhart, was acquitted of the charge, as there was not sufficient evidence given in to convict him.

ARREST OF A HOOSIER SWINDLER.

Yesterday morning Marshal Haworth received a dispatch from Maroa, summoning him to come up to that place on the first train. The Marshal obeyed the summons, and took the freight train yesterday morning, arriving at Maroa about noon. On his arrival he was given a requisition from Gov. Hendricks of Indiana, on the governor of Illinois, for the arrest of one John Kannihan, who had swindled several parties at Washington, Indiana, last winter, out of hundreds of dollars. It seems that Kannihan had been once arrested and had evaded the officers of the law. He afterwards swore that he would not be re-arrested; he would not be taken alive.

By inquiry Marshal Haworth ascertained that Kannihan, being apprised of the officer's approach, had fled over eastward, intending to get away over to the I. B. & W. R'y. The Marshal got a buggy and hurried over into DeWitt county as he thought in pursuit of his man. When he arrived at Lane, a small station in DeWitt county, he found to his chagrin that no man answering to Kannihan's description had been seen in the neighborhood. The Marshal was just preparing to leave for the Illinois river, when it was said that the swindler had been seen. Just as he was about to start a freight train on the I. B. & W. hove in sight. He waited until the train stopped at the station, and perceiving Kannihan on a box car, he climbed up and made him a prisoner. At first Kannihan refused to get off the train, but seeing that the Marshal was determined he came down and was handcuffed. The buggy was immediately driven to Clinton, and the officer came down here last night on the 8 o'clock train with his prisoner. Kannihan was imprisoned in the county jail until noon to-day, when he left over the I. & I. C. R. R. in charge of Officer Storm, of Washington, Ind.

COMMUNICATION.

Let Him That is Clear Throw the First Stone.

A poor unfortunate girl, who found an asylum at our county house a few weeks ago, and was finally transferred to the poor-house, has found peace, also, with her offspring, in mother earth, and her heartless seducer, that could or would not protect her, goes free, probably unknown. The poor girl, it is presumed, came under an assumed name, from Peoria; the girl gave birth to a child in the poor-house, and died Friday, the 18th day of December, and both had there contracted the small-pox. The probabilities are that the girl was driven from a respectable home for fear of exposure by a hard-hearted family or parents to an unknown grave.

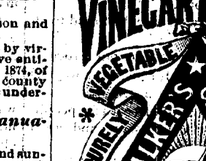
Ayer's Sarsaparilla



Is widely known as one of the most effectual remedies ever discovered for cleansing the system and purifying the blood. It has stood the test of years, with a constantly growing reputation, based on its intrinsic virtues, and sustained by its remarkable cures. So mild as to be safe and beneficial to children, and yet so searching as to effectually purge out the great corruptions of the blood, such as the scrofulous and syphilitic contamination. Impurities, or diseases that have lurked in the system for years, soon yield to this powerful antidote, and disappear. Hence its wonderful cures, many of which are publicly known, of Scrofula, and all scrofulous diseases, Ulcers, Eruptions, and eruptive disorders of the skin; Tumors, Blotches, Boils, Pimples, Pustules, Sores, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, and internal Ulcerations of the Uterus, Stomach, and Liver. It also cures other complaints, to which it would not seem especially adapted, such as Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Fits, Neuralgia, Heart Disease, Female Weakness, Debility, and Leucorrhœa, when they are manifestations of the scrofulous poisons.

It is an excellent restorer of health and strength in the Spring. By renewing the appetite and vigor of the digestive organs, it dissipates the depression and listless languor of the season. Even where no disorder appears, people feel better, and live longer, for cleansing the blood. The system moves on with renewed vigor and a new lease of life.
